What does AWSA do?

AWSA is a not-for-profit incorporated Association established to raise awareness and promote the Saharawi cause in Australia. In particular it campaigns for:

- A UN referendum of self-determination
- Access to jobs, housing and education for indigenous Saharawis in occupied zones
- Monitoring of human rights, on both sides, by the UN
- Protection of the country's natural resources for the Saharawi people

To do this:

- AWSA lobbies government and industry
- Organises educational and cultural events
- Appeals for aid to the refugees and human rights defenders
